MACHER'S MESSAGE

Praise be to the Almighty Always..

Being a woman in our society It's not easy to pursue our passion into a business.

I have been an entrepreneur since 2012 which taught me the highest quality of being patience. Some things definitely get time to work out. To be honest I got recognized by many for past 3 years only.

Being consistent in what you are doing will bring your work to the limelight. Thought of Getting famous in a day is a myth and it won't last longer either.

I overlooked rejections, criticisms, negativity behind my venture whippistry which bring constant mental pressure to the extent that I thought of quitting this one. Then I realised it's only the opponent plan to make us quit to prove us wrong. But I should prove them that they're wrong, through my works and achievements consistently with much hard work and put at Bay those negativities. I overcame my struggles and here I'm stronger than I was before. Alhamdulillah.

Nothing comes as piece of cake.. Bind together Experience, perseverance, Hard work, creativity, punctuality, discipline, dedication to make it possible., In essence love and passion towards our work are the most important key for being a successful entrepreneur.

Definitely my customers support and their love towards my work is also one of my secret essences behind my successful journey of an entrepreneur.

I still have more to learn, experience and achieve in what I'm doing. This is just the beginning for me.

Now or Never

You say give me, give me sometime
Until this became untimed.
So that's all for your snore time.
What did you expect! Leisure time?
Honestly which brings pressure time.
And it's now or never time.
You're ready once in past time
Hence twice future crossed its time.
There comes a Boundary time
To hold you back off time.
Just listen to me time to time
You won't lose now and never.

Room Tour

Step in and close the squeaking door behind you.
I'll take you deeper and deeper to my room of thoughts; to my world.
As you walk, thorny carpets might cause you to flinch, but over time, you'll get used to it.
The bed maybe cold and hard as a stone, but make yourself comfortable anyway; for your yet to witness many more mysteries.
Rusted drawers filled with needles, my cozy corner of the room.
Shattered mirror, just like my mind and body.
The hollow couch in the corner, my favourite area, where I think, think and think until I'm worn out.
A quizzical look on your face concerned me.
Dearest, do not fret, for this is how I've been living for a very long time.
And I may be okay with it, because this is who I am.
The tour ends here and I've shown you, my world; every inch of it.
Are you willing to show yours?

2017-2020

Reminiscing those pleasant days and you
Our exquisite soulmate one day
And execrable one on the other day
Still, I never wanted you to go away.

Reminiscing those pleasant days and you
Lesson, you taught us once, was our burden
Then those burdens became our lessons
Realised those were I ever had sweetest burden.

Reminiscing those pleasant days and you
You gave me the priceless gemstones
I can't count my days without those gems
Those gems were beautifully named as Friends.

You gave all those nostalgic memories and you are the finest place I've ever seen "TBAKC" My college.

TBAKC Times: A Golden Green Memories

Beautiful Hours! We spent triple donkey's years
An echo from our Auditorium is eternity!
Every sunset is the opening music of our chitter-chatter.
Colours of rainbow; though We are Eleven, not fading stars'
A mild listening memory feeds an antique melody.

Our laughs are splendours, that's newly rooted in a day Memories are an autumnal stream, An overwhelming emotion.

Our friendship, A winged spirit round over frozen cheeks.
Voiceless fountain's inking sprung mates

Memories are endless fights,
loves, friendships, exams, rules,
cares, gossips, raging, funs,
sleepless nights and dramas, respects,
And unforgettable blossoming.
